Remarkable Ruberiod Roofing

Statistics prove that less than 2 per cent of the roofs on which millions of rolls of Ruberiod Roofing have been applied during the past twelve years have been painted or coated.

This is a record of durability never even approached by any roofing, whether of metal or other material. It is a positive demonstration of weather-proof, acid-proof, water-proof and fire-resisting qualities such as are found in no other roofing.

This roofing is for long wear. For temporary roofing we have cheaper grades.

ALL ABOUT THE COURTS

Lee Toma Resists Pay- ment of a Fee.

Harry J. Johnston vs. Lee Toma & Co., Ltd., came up for trial before Judge Robinson. L. Andrews and W. S. Fleming for plaintiff; R. W. Breckons and J. G. Pratt for defendant. The following jury was found satisfactory as drawn: Patrick Ryan, Lewis C. King, Chas. P. Osborne, Percy Lishman, James Armstrong, H. C. Carter, J. J. Sullivan, Samuel Nowlein, Harry A. Wilder, Hiram Kaaha, H. P. Benson and Wm. F. Ewing.

It is a claim for $5957.02 with legal interest from the date of the filing of the complaint and for costs. The claim is based on services of the plaintiff as custom house broker, acting in the name of Hind, Rolph & Co., Ltd., whereby the defendant was saved $17,871.08 in duties on importations of Manila cigars. Mr. Johnston made the protest against the assessment of the collector of customs to the Treasury Department in Washington, which was sustained. In his complaint Mr. Johnston says that the reasonable value of his services, "according to the standard of compensation in similar cases prevailing in Honolulu, Washington and New York, was and is one-third of the amount saved to the importer."

Plaintiff rested at 3 p. m. and the jury was excused until 4 o'clock while Mr. Breckons presented a series of motions, which he said would have a bearing on the instructions of the court to the jury. "Were any dividends paid by Lee Toma & Co. after the cigars were passed?" Mr. Andrews asked this question of his last witness, but subject to objection. It was objected to by Mr. Breckons and disallowed by the court. The case was argued to the jury at 6:30, when Judge Robinson excused the jury until Monday at 9 a. m., then to receive the charge of the court.

SMALLER BOND ORDERED.

On the motion for foreclosure of mortgage of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., vs. W. C. Achi and others, Judge Robinson granted the motion to require security for payment of interest, except that the bond is to be $3000 instead of $7000. The bond is to be filed within ten days and the sale is postponed from October 22 to November 12.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Gear appointed Frank E. Thompson as guardian ad litem for all of the minors in the equity suit of John A. Cummins vs. Joseph O. Carter, trustee, and others. Plaintiff has filed a rejoinder in demurrer as to Carter by himself and several other respondents jointly who had demurred to the complaint.

A rejoinder in demurrer is filed in the case of Keialoha K. Ai and W. R. Castle, trustee, vs. Kapiolani Estate, Ltd. T. Yoshiharu vs. Kei Hin Bank, Ltd., has been discontinued.

Judge De Bolt will call the civil jury calendar Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Turk vs. Turk was further continued by Judge Robinson yesterday.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

A woman buys a sewing machine for what it will do; not as an article of furniture. A man carries a watch to tell him the time; not as an investment of surplus capital. The same principle when one is ill. We want the medicine or the treatment which will relieve and cure. The friend in need must be a friend indeed, something, or somebody, with a reputation. There should be no guesswork in treating disease. People have the right to know what a medicine is, and what it will do, before they take it. It must have behind it an open record of benefit to others for the same diseases, a series of cures that proves its merit and inspires confidence. It is because it has such a record that WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is bought and used without hesitation or doubt. Its Good Name is the solid basis for the faith the people have in it; and a good name has to be earned by good deeds. It does what you have a right to expect it to do. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In Scrofula, Anemia, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza and Wasting Complaints, it is to be thoroughly relied upon. Doctor J. L. Carrick says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and depraved nutrition; it stimulates the appetite and the digestion, promotes assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine." Every dose effective. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists throughout the world.

ENGLESIDE RECEPTION

The Two Associations Have a House Party.

The reception last evening at "Engleside," the new boarding home of the Young Women's Christian Association and Young Men's Christian Association, was a social success, and it proved a most desirable way to show to the friends of both institutions what a home-like place Engleside is.

This was the first reception of the kind at Engleside and the enjoyment it gave insured a series of house-warmings during the coming winter.

The Engleside, quaint in architecture, and attractive in its home features, was brilliantly illuminated within by electric globes, the lanais being fringed with Oriental lanterns. The pretty little garden at the rear was lighted with Japanese lanterns. In the dim glow shed by these were tables from which were served delicious cake and cool fruit drinks. The cottages at the extreme border of the garden were also illuminated. In effect the whole reception seemed like a garden party, the premises lending themselves readily to this form of entertainment.

The home was thronged from early to late with friends from both associations. They were pleasantly greeted by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brown, the secretaries respectively of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., and ushered into the receiving hall where several of the directors were present in line. They were Mrs. E. W. Jordan, Mrs. B. L. Marx, Mrs. J. H. Hopper, Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mrs. John McCandless.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the household, as follows: Mrs. Philip Dodge, Mrs. Brunson, Miss Grace Robertson, Miss Frances Lawrence, Miss Whitford, Miss Yoder, Miss Nichols, Mrs. C. E. Moore, Miss Myers, Miss Kellner, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Stinson, Miss Sumner, Miss Horney, Miss Neilsen. The gentlemen of the household escorted the guests over the home and cottages.

The home-like appearance of the rooms was pleasing to the visitors, some of the rooms being so artistically arranged as to merit a prize should any be offered.

HARRISON BURIAL ASSOCIATION DATA

The annual meeting of the Honolulu branch of the Harrison Mutual Burial Association was held yesterday. By the biennial report it was shown that 2771 members had been admitted in the two years—2615 in class A and 56 in class B. There had been 102 deaths—98 in class A and 4 in class B. For membership fees $3217 and in assessments $2088, a total of $10,305. The total expenses and benefits were $12,763.80, showing an apparent deficit of $2458.80, according to the report of Richard H. Trent, auditor. J. H. Townsend, secretary and treasurer, exhibits $1379 as owing in dues and assessments. Commissions paid to agents amounted to $3218, and the association undertaker received $7500 as salary for the two years.

Mr. Townsend estimates that the branch will have between 5000 and 6000 members to report next year, and states that with 5000 it will only cost two cents each to bury one member.

SCENE OF MURDER HAS BEEN MAPPED

Olaf Sorenson of the Survey Department has drawn a map of the Ewa road from a point near the fertilizer works to Moanalua, showing the scene of the murder of Samuel Edward Damon, for use in the trial of Jose Miranda. It is about eight feet long and shows where the danger lanterns were placed, the stealing of one of which by Miranda led to his mortally assaulting Mr. Damon. The spot where the tragedy occurred and other salient landmarks along the road are exhibited on the map.

RUINED HIS BUSINESS

Chinese Merchant Is Frozen Out of Store.

Kam Yuen Kong has brought a suit against Lee Lung Tai for damages in the sum of $100 for having ruined him in business. The plaintiff states that he conducted a coffee saloon and general grocery at the corner of River and Vineyard streets, and was indebted to the defendant for about $100 worth of merchandise.

One day the defendant installed one Yee Shui Tai in the store, thrusting the plaintiff aside and preventing him from continuing to care for his business. Yee Shui Tai took entire charge of the receipts, and up to recently these receipts falling into the substitute's hands amounted to about $190.

The plaintiff claims that he has been ruined and deprived of the means of obtaining a livelihood.

MOST WIDELY SPREAD ANIMALS.

The three animals that are most widely spread over the earth are the cow, the horse and the pig. These animals did not spread through their own efforts, but were developed by man, and gradually rendered adaptable to practically every place where man himself can live.

Cattle entered America simultaneously with its discovery, for Columbus introduced Spanish steers and cows in 1493. In 1525 they were introduced into Mexico, which offered ideal conditions for them. From Mexico they spread into Texas, where the new conditions of range and feeding developed a race of cattle that became known as Texas cattle, and these animals are typical of the range-bred cattle of America now.

The pig had its origin in India, and its first conquest was that of Eastern Asia and the archipelagoes of the Eastern seas. China fell an early victim to the love of the pig. Records show that the cultivation of the grunting plover was a high art in that land as long ago as 3,000 years before Christ. One of the greatest of the Chinese feasts days is known by the name "pig."

The Koran forbids the use of pork, just as the Moslem law does; hence the pig is not raised in countries where the Mohammedan law rules. But in all other parts of the world the porker is as popular as the cow or the horse; and there are as many varieties of pig, due to local causes and to different ways of breeding in different countries, as there are varieties of horses and cattle.

It has always been a matter of wonder to naturalists and economists that the camel did not become so widely spread as any of these three animals in the course of its thousands of years of existence as a domestic animal.

The camel combines the advantages of ox and horse as draught animal and burden carrier; it is of high food value; it gives excellent milk; its demands in the form of the food and water are exceedingly modest, and its hair is of great value. While the camel probably could not bear all the extremes of climate that the horse or cow can bear, it is by no means a difficult animal to acclimate, as is shown by the fact that it is used as draught animals in the colder parts of Siberia, in the Russian and Turkestan steppes in the Himalayas, in Africa and Australia.

It is well known that wild camels, which had descended from domestic camels that had been turned loose, were to be found in some of the Western sand plains of the United States until recent years, and occasionally there are stories that a herd of them exists in Arizona.

The dromedary is the plains camel, while the beast with the two humps is the favorite for the mountain use. In Sokotra the latter camel climbs up steep steps hewn into the face of the rock, and in all places where they are used as mountain climbers they are almost as sure-footed as mules. Prehensile, the Russian explorer, found wild camels in the worst mountain regions of Asia, in places so dangerous that the human foot could not find a hold.—Pittsburg Leader.
